To Whom It May Concern:

As a Managing Partner with MARQ Enterprises I am extremely happy with the services Alliant Communications has been providing us over the passed 4 ½ years.

Our company has many divisions including manufacturing, real estate, land development and sales. Alliant Communications was able to find a new phone system that integrated with all our companies through our computer network.

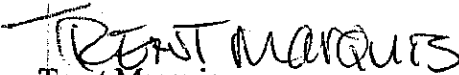

When Shortel Systems was installed last spring, we immediately saw the benefits. Although changing phone systems can be a complicated and sometimes a frustrating learning curve, Alliant Communication's staff made this transition easy. They were extremely responsive before and during the setup and we continue to receive great customer service.

I would highly recommend this system to both small and large businesses. Having a system that works within our computer system allows our staff to get faxes and voice messages directly to their workstations thus providing a productive response to our customers and our team. The other great benefit we have experienced with this system is an on going history of our calls integrated through email. We are able to keep a record of these calls, time spent with each customer, and the ability to forward and store these messages to other staff managers.

I assure you that if you use the system to it's fullest potential you will be extremely satisfied with your investment and the results of communicating with your customers.

If you have any questions regarding the Shortel phone system, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at 509-728-3190.

Sincerely,

Trent Marquis
